1.0 Our School Vision

At Avonwood we see it as our moral imperative for all children, regardless of background, to achieve their very best. Our children all read classic literature, study modern foreign languages, experience the science of dissecting organs and even learn a new musical instrument every year as a right, not a privilege. These high expectations enable us to develop and deliver a curriculum rich in carefully sequenced and embedded powerful knowledge. We expect teachers to deliver lessons with that fulfil this expectation whilst living up to our ambition of inspiring wonder and intellectual curiosity.

Our curriculum is at the centre of every education decision we take at Avonwood. We do not see the curriculum as a finished product, far from it. On a weekly, termly and annual basis we review plans, consider our intent and make sure we deliver the very best academic and enrichment diet to our children. All curriculum areas have a subject lead that is responsible for the design, implementation and ongoing monitoring and evaluation of this area.

Avonwood has moved away from tokenistic topics towards knowledge rich experiences in discrete subjects, with deliberate cross curricular links only when appropriate. For example, in Year 2 we teach the Great Fire of London when children have already learnt in Geography where London is and its status within the United Kingdom. The awe and wonder of learning continues to characterise the Avonwood curriculum but in a purposeful, sequenced and deliberate manner.

If 'powerful knowledge' is the head of our school, then reading for pleasure and progress is its heart. Our school environment and curriculum crystallises reading for pleasure as a valued and purposeful part of our curriculum. We agree with the view of Thompson (2020) when she states the importance of becoming a reader who teachers and a teacher who reads is a pedagogy with far reaching consequences. Reading progression is carefully mapped to provide opportunities for exposure to a wide variety of genres, authors of different backgrounds and a mixture of classic and contemporary texts. Every afternoon we 'Drop Everything and Read' to end our school day with a high quality whole class reading session. We wholeheartedly believe reading is the golden key to unlocking the potential of every child's success.

We are honoured to be the only United Nations Earth Charter Primary School in Europe. We believe it is vital that all children have an understanding of their responsibility as global citizens and our eight Earth Charter principals are referenced throughout our curriculum and daily life. From the importance of peace and respect for all living creatures through to the consideration of the past and future of our planet, this ethos gives our Avonwood curriculum a very current and relevant perspective that all stakeholders within our community hold strong. This runs deep within our "Avonwood DNA" and is optimised by our school mantra... it starts with one!

1.1 How our whole school vision links with R.E

At Avonwood, part of the broad, balanced curriculum is the teaching of Religious Education (RE). We believe that all children, from any faith or culture, should feel welcomed into the school community and this is fostered through the learning and exposure to a variety of religions and worldviews.

We follow the new United Learning 'Religion and Worldviews' Curriculum (published July 2022). This means that the curriculum reflects up to date research and pedagogy and has an evidence-based, multidisciplinary worldviews approach.

By its very nature, RE allows opportunities for both Diversity and Inclusion. Discussions held in lessons encourage children to express their opinions and share their own experiences from their own backgrounds. Through this, a culture of empathy and respect is truly enhanced. Children feel their ideas and opinions are valued whilst also being able to listen to others; hearing and analysing conflicting viewpoints.

Through our curriculum, we hope for children to develop a secure understanding of the knowledge and concepts surrounding RE as well as developing positive attitudes to cultures and beliefs which vary from their own.

RE also helps to promote the spiritual, moral, cultural, mental and physical development of pupils and prepares them for the opportunities, responsibilities and experiences of later life. Through RE pupils can develop skills e.g. discernment, critical thinking and reasoning.

Additionally, RE offers opportunities for moments of mindfulness (cultivating a sense of awareness on purpose, in a non-judgemental way in the present moment):

All of these opportunities experienced through our RE lessons, feeds significantly into the Avonwood belief in "It starts with one".

2.0 Subject Intent, Implementation & Impact

2.1 Subject Intent

We aim for all of our children to leave Avonwood equipped with the RE skills and knowledge that will enable them to be ready for the curriculum at KS3 and for life as an adult in the wider world.

Our intent for the RE curriculum is we can achieve the following for children at Avonwood:

Building on the Framework for Excellence, The United Learning Primary Curriculum has six core principles:

- Entitlement

All pupils have the right to learn what is in the United Learning curriculum, and schools have a duty to ensure that all pupils are taught the whole of it

- Coherence

Taking the National Curriculum as its starting point, our curriculum is carefully sequenced so that powerful knowledge builds term by term and year by year. We make meaningful connections within subjects and between subjects. Religious Education or Religion & Worldviews currently has no National Curriculum; the United Learning curriculum design takes account of statutory requirements and current research.

- Mastery

We ensure that foundational knowledge, skills and concepts are secure before moving on. Pupils revisit prior learning and apply their understanding in new contexts

- Adaptability

The core content – the ‘what’ – of the curriculum is stable, but schools will bring it to life in their own local context, and teachers will adapt lessons – the ‘how’ – to meet the needs of their own classes

- Representation

All pupils see themselves in our curriculum, and our curriculum takes all pupils beyond their immediate experience

- Education with character

Our curriculum - which includes the taught subject timetable as well as spiritual, moral, social and cultural development, our co-curricular provision and the ethos and ‘hidden curriculum’ of the school – is intended to spark curiosity and to nourish both the head and the heart

Subject-specific rationales are built on these six principles.

We believe that children are free to make their own choices and decisions concerning religion and belief. RE lessons will not try to persuade them but rather inform and develop skills with which evaluation can take place.

Through our curriculum, we hope for children to develop a secure understanding of the knowledge and concepts surrounding RE as well as developing positive attitudes to cultures and beliefs which vary from their own.

The overall aim of our RE curriculum is to make RE a meaningful and relevant subject for all pupils.

2.2 Subject Implementation

At Avonwood, we have chosen to use and follow the United Learning Religion and Worldviews Curriculum to help us construct a coherent and balanced RE curriculum where every year progression and continuity is enabled and enhanced. To get the most value from the United R&W Curriculum, we adhere to the sequencing and teaching the 'what' but adapt the 'how' and the lesson delivery to meet the needs of our pupils.

The United Curriculum for Religion & Worldviews provides all children, regardless of their background, with:

- Coherent and sequenced substantive knowledge of religion and worldviews represented in Britain and the wider world, selected to build pupils' understanding through three vertical concepts. These vertical concepts build a thematic narrative and provide context across diverse worldviews, as well as using small steps to help pupils gain a deep understanding of complex, abstract ideas:
 - Sacrifice

Giving something up for the benefit of someone else is a recurring concept across religious & non-religious worldviews and takes many different forms. What motivates human action and what are the societal and personal consequences?

- Knowledge & Meaning

One of the unique qualities of human intelligence through time has been our quest for knowledge and meaning. How have religion and belief impacted on humanity's search for "Truth"? How do beliefs impact human behaviour? What is it reasonable to believe?

- Human Context

Human beings exist in, and are influenced by, their place in time and their geographical, political and social context (Person, Time & Place). Everyone is different, so how have our diversities been influenced by our personal context? What influences a personal worldview?

- A Worldviews approach provides opportunities for all pupils to see themselves reflected in the curriculum, but also to be taken beyond their own experiences. The Religion & Worldviews curriculum teaches pupils about diversity within and between beliefs, cultures and worldviews from across the world, and seeks to teach the skills and knowledge to hold respectful and informed conversations about religion and belief; to be religiously literate.
- A conscious inclusion of vocabulary and substantive content that recognises the need to decolonise teaching materials in a meaningful and accessible way.
- A scholarly approach to the core disciplinary knowledge of theology, philosophy and social sciences, developing pupils' ability to hold the types of conversation and to apply the methods and processes of theologians, philosophers and social scientists.

A curiosity and openminded approach to the worldviews of others and a reflective consciousness of their own worldview

2.3 Subject Impact

Our RE Curriculum is high quality, well-sequenced and is planned to demonstrate progression.

Assessing impact is assessing how well pupils have learned the required knowledge from the implemented curriculum. It is not about lots of tests, or meticulously comparing pupils' outcomes at the start and end of each unit.

If pupils can keep up with a well-sequenced curriculum that has progression built in, they are making progress!

The United Curriculum has this progression built in, and so teachers and subject leads just need to be confident that pupils are keeping up with it.

This can be done through:

Formative assessment in lessons

There are opportunities for formative assessment in the lesson slides provided, and teachers should continually adapt their lesson delivery to address misconceptions and ensure that pupils are keeping up with the content.

Books and pupil-conferencing

Talking to pupils about their books allows you to assess how much of the curriculum content is secure. These conversations are used most effectively to determine whether pupils have a good understanding of the vertical concepts, and if they can link recently taught content to learning from previous units. (They should not be used to assess whether pupils can recall information, as low-stakes quizzes can gather this information more efficiently).

3.2 Knowledge & Skills Overview – EYFS

Understanding the World – People, Culture and Communities

Development Matters – Reception

- Understand that some places are special to members of their community.
- Recognise that people have different beliefs and celebrate special times in different ways.
- Recognise some similarities and differences between life in this country and life in other countries.

Early Learning Goal

- Know some similarities and differences between different religious and cultural communities in this country, drawing on their experiences and what has been read in class.
- Explain some similarities and differences between life in this country and life in other countries, drawing on knowledge from stories, non-fiction texts and – when appropriate – maps.

Milestones

Children will:

- Talk about what they celebrate.
- Comment on pictures of festivals celebrated by others.
- Talk about similarities and differences between their experiences and those of others from different religious groups and cultures.

SOCIAL SCIENCES Christianity & Judaism How do people show they belong? Showing belonging through religious artefacts, places and actions.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> We belong in different places such as family, school, class, clubs. Some people choose to belong to a religious group, expressing their beliefs about God. A person who belongs to Christianity is called a Christian Some special Christian artefacts are: Cross, Bible, Christening gown, Prayer book A Christian place of worship is a church Christians welcome new members into the church by Baptising them in the name of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. Baptism often happens to babies, but older people can also choose to be baptized. A person who belongs to Judaism is a Jewish person (or Jew). Some special Jewish artefacts are: Star of David, Kippah, Torah, Tallit A Jewish place of worship is a synagogue In both the Torah and the Bible is the story of Noah and the Flood. The main themes in the story are faith, perseverance and a promise. The Bible also has stories about a man called Jesus, who is special to Christians. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Recognise that people look at the world in different ways. Christianity Why does Christmas matter to Christians? Christian beliefs about the Nativity story and incarnation	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Nativity story takes place in Nazareth about 2000 years ago. • An Angel announced to Mary & Joseph that she was going to have a baby, he would be God’s son and be called Jesus Christ. Jesus means “God saves” in Hebrew. Christ means anointed or chosen one. • Mary & Joseph were Jewish and had to travel from Nazareth to Bethlehem for the census. • When they arrived, there was nowhere to stay, but eventually they found an animal shelter, where Jesus was born. • There were signs that Jesus was a special baby: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • a) Shepherds were told by Angels to visit, they took gifts. • b) A star appeared in the sky and guided the Magi (wise men) to visit (probably 3 years later) they brought gifts • Christians believe that Jesus was the incarnation of God. We can test this by trying to make something from nothing. • Philosophical idea 2: Everything has a cause, the “first cause” was God. This can be demonstrated with falling dominoes (backwards) each was knocked over by the last, but unless it goes on forever, there must have been an original cause (God). • Discussion: What does this reveal about God’s power according to Jewish & Christian belief? – that God has power that human beings don’t. Super-natural powers that we don’t understand in nature. • Some people do not believe in God and do not believe the world was created by an outside power. Humanists are one group of people who do not believe in God but try to find a scientific explanation of where the world came from. • The Big Bang Theory, is suggested by scientists as how the universe began. Everything started together and began expanding outwards and has been expanding for billions of years. • Big question – Even if the world began from a “big bang”, how did that happen in the first place, was there a power that made a decision to start it? Was that power God? • Some religious people believe the Genesis story of creation is a true story that tells exactly how the world began, others think it is a way of teaching people that God is responsible for the creation of the world in a way they can understand. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Can think about whether the Genesis story of Creation makes sense. • Ask questions about things that are puzzling. • Look for answers to questions about belief about where the world came from. • Question if stories are real or made up and link with what people might learn from a story.

Some families have more strict rules than others. • Different objects and words have symbolic meanings. • Some Jewish families might: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Clean the house and prepare before Shabbat begins. Many Jewish families believe they should do no work during Shabbat, for some, this means no shopping, cooking or doing anything than might be seen as work (like driving or turning things on). This means they must prepare food in advance. • Some common practices when bringing in Shabbat: on Friday evening, two candles are lit and a blessing is said over wine in Kiddush cups, blessings may be said for the children in the family, everyone joins a family meal. On the table are two Challah loaves under a challah cover. • During Shabbat many families spend time together talking, visiting, playing games and singing, they may go to the synagogue on Saturday. • At nightfall on Saturday, Shabbat ends, this is marked with the lighting of a plaited, Havdalah candle to say goodbye to Shabbat and begin the working week. A spice box may be passed around to smell sweet spices to cheer people up who might be sad that Shabbat is ending. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Recognise that people look at the world in different ways. • Link that many Jewish people remember the story of creation by resting on the 7th day. • Recognise that Jewish families celebrate Shabbat in diverse ways. • Link artefacts, words and practices during Shabbat as a way of expressing belief and belonging. 	Jewish visitor to explain how they celebrate Shabbat and what it means to them

We could say it is the freedom to choose what we say and do. • Philosophical idea 1: freedom is difficult to think about because we are always limited in our freedom by physical laws and our own responsibilities. • Philosophical idea 2: freedom should be governed by reason, one person's use of their freedom shouldn't stop other people's freedom. Freedom with rules, led by thinking, not emotions. • The story of Exodus can be found in the Torah (Jewish) and the Christian Bible, it is also special to Muslims. • In the story, the Jewish people (Israelites) were slaves to the Egyptians. They were physically not free to do what they wanted. • Narrative of the story of Moses ending in the freedom of the Israelites. • Passover (or Pesach) is a way of remembering the story of Exodus and what freedom means. Jewish families remember the story using artefacts and practices during the Seder meal. • Children have an important role during the Seder, using the Haggadah, they ask 4 questions which the adults must answer. PHILOSOPHY What do our senses tell us about Hindu worship? Senses in Hindu worship at home and in the Mandir.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • In Hindu Dharma (sometimes called Hinduism or Sanatan Dharma), there is a different understanding of God, than in Abrahamic faiths (Judaism, Christianity, Islam). • In Hindu Dharma, it is understood that there is One Supreme Being or Ultimate Reality (Brahman) who has no physical form. Many Hindus believe that Brahman is within everything and everyone. There are no images of Brahman in Hindu worship. The aum symbol is widely used to represent Brahman and is used in meditation. • Trimurti means “three forms”, Brahma is the creator, Vishnu is the preserver and Shiva is the destroyer they are all aspects of Brahman, they also take many forms (Avatars) represented as Gods or deities. • Murtis are representations of the Gods or deities; they are a visual expression of ideas about the role and characteristics of Gods, (Visual symbolism) they help Hindus focus their worship. • Some of the symbolism represented in Murtis are explained in stories about the Gods and Goddesses. • Worship is important to many Hindus as a way of connecting with the reality of Brahman within themselves. • Worship at home takes many forms. Different people may focus on particular Gods and have a shrine in their home. • Puja at home appeals to all 5 senses and may include: a bell (hearing) to show the God they are ready to worship; Murti (sight) an image to focus worship; Incense (smell) to purify and fill the room; Kum-kum Powder (touch) to mark the head of worshippers and sometimes the murti; Fruit offerings (taste) to the God. An Arti lamp is waved before the deities, worshippers wave their hands over the flame to gain blessings from the God. • Many Hindus worship in the Mandir, these can vary in size and design. THEOLOGY Christianity What is the Bible? Origins, content, significance, construction and interpretation of the Bible.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The Bible is the Christian holy book. It teaches Christians about God, God’s relationship with people and how they believe Jesus Christ was the completion of God’s plans. • The Bible is constructed in 2 parts, the oldest parts are believed to be about 3000 years old, but probably existed as oral stories before they were written down. • The Bible is organised into books (some named after the person who wrote them, or the person they are about), chapters and verses. • The Old Testament (also special to Jewish people in the form of the Tanakh) these writings include stories about how the world began, God’s relationship with people, histories, prophecies, songs and rules. Christians believe the Old Testament predicts the coming of a Messiah. • The New Testament tells about the life and teachings of Jesus Christ, whom Christians believe is the Messiah prophesied, and the early Christian Church. It was written about 100 years after Jesus’ life. • The writings in the Bible were originally written in the language of the people of the time in what is now the Middle East, these include Hebrew (Most of the Old Testament), Aramaic (the language Jesus probably spoke) and Greek (New Testament). • Bibles have been translated in different ways over time, this means we must think about how meaning can be changed by a translator’s choice of words. • The Bible was written by many different authors and contains many different types of writing. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Consider how some Christians might interpret Biblical text. • Infer how Christian beliefs developed based on events. • Consider that questions of the reliability of scripture are complex influenced by: authorship, audience, purpose, genre, translation and history. • Recognise there are differences within Christianity, such as versions of the Bible.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • About 400 years after Jesus, Church leaders agreed which writings should be included in the official Bible. The Catholic Bible also includes some additional writings. • The words in the Bible can seem hard to understand. Christians today think hard about what the words mean in a modern context. Some Christians see the Bible as actual truth, others say some parts are stories to help people understand God. • 2 Timothy 3:16 “All scripture is God breathed and is useful for teaching, rebuking, correcting and training in righteousness” – The words are believed to be inspired by God. • The Bible is used in many Christian’s daily lives in lots of ways, for private prayer, collective worship and quiet reflection.

THEOLOGY & SOCIAL SCIENCES Christianity What is the Trinity? How have artists used symbolism to express Trinity? One God - Father, Son, Holy Spirit. Significance of metaphor and symbolism.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Christianity is a monotheistic religion, meaning belief in one God. • The Christian concept of God is sometimes called a mystery. • The mystery is how God can be one but also three. Not three parts (this suggest they can be separated from each other), Christian Theologians express this a three persons of God called the Trinity: • God the Father (creator); God the Son – (Jesus, the incarnation of God and saviour); God the Holy Spirit (God Within, the Helper, the friend). • The three persons of the Trinity have individual significance but are one whole. • Christians try to make sense of this idea using the Bible: • In the Story of Jesus’ Baptism (Matthew 3:13-17) reveals God the father as a “voice from heaven”, God the Son as the person of Jesus, and God the Holy Spirit as being “like a white dove”. • Pentecost, is celebrated on the Sunday 50 days after Easter. PHILOSOPHY Christianity & Humanism How do people make moral decisions? Rules and human choice.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Philosophy comes from Greek and means “Love of Wisdom”, philosophers try to make sense of the world by asking questions and analysing arguments. • Humans have tried to make sense of the world in lots of ways right from when we were first able to think, religious belief and reasoning is one of those ways of making sense of the world. • “How do people make moral decisions ?” is one example of a philosophical question with many different possible answers. • Moral means our understanding of right and wrong behaviour. • Humans have tried to express ideas of right and wrong through rules, both social and religious, usually we have a choice about whether we should follow these rules but breaking them may have consequences. • Not all rules are good or make sense. • In the Old Testament the Jewish people were given a set of rules called the 10 commandments, by God. These are important in Christianity too. Believers might worry that God will not be happy if they break the rules. • In the New Testament, Jesus gave his followers a new commandment, (John 13:43-35) “Love one another. As I have loved you, so you must love one another”. • Philosophical question: Is acting with love always a good way to behave? This can cause problems; humans sometimes 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Identify philosophical questions • Decide if a Christian belief about morality makes sense and give reasons why. • Recognise that ideas of right and wrong are difficult to define. • Consider that people have different answers to questions about the world. Humanists believe they can still be “good without God.” 	Recognising and respecting differences in human choices.

	have good intentions, but things go wrong and have bad outcomes. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Not all people believe in God or choose to follow rules laid down by religion. This is a non-religious worldview. • A person who believes in God is called a theist, a person who does not believe in God is called an atheist, a person who is not sure about God’s existence is called agnostic. These are all different worldviews. • Humanism is one example of a non-religious worldview. People who identify as humanists believe that they have one life and should make the best of it and that the purpose of life should be to be as happy as possible, this includes making other people around them happy. This is such an important principle that many humanists use the symbol of the Happy Human to represent their beliefs. • Many humanists believe that people should chose to be good without God’s influence on their lives. The guiding principle is that they should seek happiness and make others happy. • Considering the best outcome for the most people is called utilitarianism. 3 Principles of utilitarianism are: 1. Happiness is the most important thing. 2. Actions are right if they promote happiness, wrong if they result in unhappiness. 3. Everyone’s happiness counts equally. • Philosophers question whether ideas like utilitarianism make sense and if they will always work.

THEOLOGY Islam Where do Islamic beliefs come from? History of Prophet Muhammad, revelation	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Muslims believe Islam is the religion Allah has chosen for humanity. • Islam shares many of the same stories as early Judaism and believes Jesus was a prophet but not the son of God. • Muslims believe Islam reached its completion through the Prophet Muhammad in 7th Century Arabia. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Infer how Islamic beliefs developed based on events. • Understand the significance of the Qur’an being considered the word of God revealed to

of the Qur'an, significance of Mecca.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Mecca was an important city for trade routes and religion, but the city was ruled by different tribes and had lots of corruption. • Many people worshipped many Gods, they put idols in the Ka'bah, lots of people visited and brought money in to the city. Christianity, Judaism and Zoroastrianism were monotheistic religions present at the time, but did not deal with the problems in Arabia. • Muhammad was born around 570 CE, he was orphaned and brought up by his grandfather and then his uncle. • Muhammad travelled as a camel driver and worked for merchants. He became an honest and successful trader. A Successful businesswoman, Khadija married him, he became rich and used his wealth to free slaves and help the poor. • Muhammad believed there was only one God and didn't like how the Ka'bah, a holy building, was being used to keep idols of false gods. • When Muhammad was 40, he went to a cave to be quiet and focus on God away from Mecca and its corruption. Muslims believe he was visited by the Angel Jibril (Gabriel) and was commanded to read 3 times, Muhammad couldn't read, but on the third command he was able to read and remember the words. Muhammad was being told to share God's message of oneness to the people. This is called the Night of Power. Muhammad was visited many times over the years and the words he was given were eventually written down in the Qur'an. Considered the words of God. • Muhammad began sharing the messages from God quietly at first, but gradually began to challenge peoples' worship of idols and say people should live moral lives. He began gaining followers. • The leaders in Mecca did not like what Muhammad said as it challenged their power and lifestyles. They began attacking Muslims. Many people followed Muhammad, even when he was forced out of Mecca. 	Muhammad as the Final Prophet. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • There are differences within Islam, such as Sunni & Shia.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Muhammad was considered a wise and moral leader and prophet; he was popular and successful. • There were many battles but eventually Muhammad and his followers returned to Mecca and took charge, he forgave the people who had persecuted the Muslims. All the idols were removed from the Ka'bah and it was restored to a house of worship of one God. • Muhammad died in 632CE, the entire population of Mecca were now Muslim and Islam had become the dominant religion in the region. • The words given to Muhammad by the Angel were written down and formed the Qur'an, considered the actual words of God (sacred). • The Qur'an is shown respect as the words of God, Muslims perform Wudu before touching it, keep it on a high shelf above all other books and do not put it on the floor, a Qur'an stand is often used. • Muhammad's wisdom was also written down in the Sunnah and Haddith, these are useful, respected guides to Muslims on how to live their lives.

THEOLOGY & PHILOSOPHY Is it reasonable to believe God is omnipotent, omnibenevolent, omniscient and omnipresent? Meaning of "omni" in Abrahamic understanding of God. Does this seem possible philosophically? What religious stories might support this?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Philosophers try to explain why they think something is true, they try to do this in a logical way. • Philosophers show their thinking in steps to show what they know and how it leads to their new idea. Logic helps us to decide if we are convinced by an argument. • Deductive argument: 1. Something we know is true. 2. a second thing we know is true. 3. From the first two this must be true. (logic) If the conclusion follows the first 2 it is a valid argument. • Inductive argument: These lead to likely conclusions based on probability and might best be expressed with qualifiers such as "most" or "some" rather than "all". These are general rules and might have exceptions. • The Greek Philosopher Socrates 469-399 BCE, talked people through their arguments pointing out when things didn't make sense and asking questions, he used reasoning to assess the strength of an argument. • The Abrahamic faiths (Judaism, Christianity & Islam) often connect the idea of God with "Omni" traits. • Omni = all • Omnipotent = all powerful – Seen in story of creation. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Identify logical arguments • Decide if a belief makes logical sense and give reasons why. • Recognise that claims of truth based on faith are difficult to examine logically. • Consider that people have different answers to questions about the world and seek answers in different places. Theologians: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Consider how beliefs shape how some people see the world.

Does this fit with the idea of a loving God? • Story of Job – tested by Satan, and still faithful, accepted it was not for him to know God’s ways. • Greek Philosopher, Epicurious 341-270 BCE, thought about the problem of evil: ‘Is God willing to prevent evil, but not able? Then he is not omnipotent. Is he able, but not willing? Then he is malevolent. Is he both able and willing? Then whence cometh evil? Is he neither able nor willing? Then why call him God?’ • A philosopher might ask if sacred texts are reasonable to consider as evidence, their truth claims are a matter of personal faith and do not offer physical evidence. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Consider how believers interpret scripture. • Consider reliability of religious sources.

PHILOSOPHY What do we mean by truth? Plato’s cave. Evidence and scientific reasoning.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Philosophy comes from Greek and means “Love of Wisdom”, philosophers try to make sense of the world by asking questions and analysing arguments. • Knowledge is an awareness of something as true based on experience, education or evidence. • Belief is something someone thinks is true without proof. • Opinion is a view formed based on experience without sure knowledge. • To make decisions about if we know, believe or have an opinion on something we might use evidence and reasoning. There are different types of evidence: Empirical evidence – based on experimenting, observation and data; Theoretical evidence – based on experience or opinion but is not proved (yet). • Many worldviews make claims about their idea of truth. • It is possible for different people to experience truth in different ways, it depends on their perspective or greater knowledge. • The story of The Blind Men and the Elephant is one way to explain this idea, this story is often used to explain the idea of religion or belief in Hindu Dharma, Buddhism and other worldviews. We are all limited by our own experience. • Plato (428-360BCE), Greek philosopher who thought deeply about truth and existence. He said that our senses can be tricked so might not be reliable in showing us the truth, we see this in magic tricks. • Plato’s Cave is a story to explain how we are limited by our experience and find it hard to think outside that experience. • We can apply some themes from Plato’s Cave to our thinking about religion and belief. THEOLOGY Christianity/Judaism/Islam What does sacrifice mean? Abraham/Ibrahim in sacred text, Eid-ul-Fitr, animal sacrifice, Jesus as Ultimate Sacrifice.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Sacrifice has different meanings, it can mean “giving something up for the sake of someone/thing else” • In a religious context, ritual sacrifice can involve offering something to God to keep things right with God. Over history this has taken many forms such as food, precious objects, killing animals or even people. • In ancient Jewish tradition, scripture required the ritual spilling of an animal’s blood, which would then be burnt. • The Bible and the Torah tell the story of Abraham & Isaac. Abraham was tested by God, he was willing to sacrifice his son on God’s orders, he was stopped at the last moment. Abraham was rewarded by God. • The Qur’an tells the story of Ibrahim & Ishmael, almost the same story but Ishmael was a different son, who Muslims treat as a prophet and believe was an ancestor to Muhammad. Muslims remember the story of Ibrahim’s willingness to sacrifice Ishmael at Eid ul-Adha. • Because of their links in religious traditions to Abraham, Judaism, Christianity and Islam are often called the 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Recognise of how believers might interpret different texts in different ways. • Identify the influence of historical events of Easter on Christian worldviews. • Identify similarities and differences within and between the Abrahamic faiths. • Identify how beliefs in God as most important might influence a person’s life, how they view the world and other people

His suffering and death meant that all past and future sins can be forgiven. Some Christians see Jesus as a bridge allowing humans to get back to God, salvation. After that, people only needed to repent (be sorry), and animal sacrifice was not needed. • Jesus’ suffering and sacrifice is remembered by many Christians on Good Friday. Traditionally, some Christians perform a pilgrimage in Jerusalem to remember the events of his crucifixion. • Many churches all over the world try to replicate this in Stations of the Cross, 14 images showing Jesus’ suffering. On “Good Friday” many Christians visit these and use them as a focus for prayer.

PHILOSOPHY Christianity / Islam / Humanism How do people think about poverty, justice & self-sacrifice? Meaning of poverty & relative poverty. Meaning of justice. Everyday self-sacrifice.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Poverty means being extremely poor. Absolute poverty means not having enough of one or more of the things we need to live: food, water, clothing & shelter. Relative poverty is not having enough in comparison with the people around you (dependent on where and when you live). • Justice means things are morally right and fair. • Sacrifice has different meanings, it can mean “giving something up for the sake of someone/thing else” 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Describe different philosophical answers to questions about poverty, justice and sacrifice. • Begin to decide whether religious reasoning is expressed clearly and suggest 	Recognising and respecting differences.

They believe that doing this will please God. • Many Muslims follow the teachings of the Qur'an and the example of Prophet Muhammad and should show care for others. They believe doing this will please Allah. • Some religious people seek to please God because they hope for a reward in the future, like going to heaven. • Altruism means doing good things without expecting a reward, being self-less. • Many people think that where they see injustice in the world they should help others, perform acts of self-sacrifice, just because it is the right thing to do. • Humanists are one non-religious worldview. Humanists don't have a sacred text or teachings to tell them what to do, they rely on their own judgement about what is a right and just society. • At the core of the humanist approach to life is human happiness. Some humanists choose to follow an agreed set of 10 Commitments, an ethical way of living life, this includes altruism. Humanists do not do things because they think they will be rewarded in heaven; most humanists do not believe there is anything beyond this life. • American writer and philosopher Loren Eiseley (1907-1977) wrote "The star thrower", pointing out that small actions can have impact on individuals even if the whole task seems overwhelming. 	more than one point of view. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Consider ethical and moral ideas about poverty and justice from differing viewpoints, considering why there are differences.

SOCIAL SCIENCES Islam / Christianity How do people contribute to society? Self-sacrifice in form of charity/ community action.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Society is a group of people who live and interact together. Many people believe they have a responsibility to contribute to how that society works together. This may involve making sacrifices for the good of others. • To follow the 5 pillars of Sunni Islam, many Muslims believe they have an obligation to give money to charity, this is called Zakat. Many Muslims also give voluntarily, Sadaqa, because it helps others and pleases Allah. • Some Muslims show their belief in action in the community by supporting or volunteering for charities. • Inspired by their Islamic faith, Islamic Relief is a charity begun by Dr Hany El-Banna and a group of friends in Birmingham in 1984, now it is an international charity helping people in need in 45 countries across the world. Guided by teachings from the Qur'an and the prophet's example in the Sunnah, the charity runs on principles of sincerity, excellence, compassion, social justice and custodianship. • Christianity teaches that Christians should help people in need, whoever they are, as in the story of the Good Samaritan, living your beliefs and contributing to society is important. • The Bible suggests different types of giving, such as Tithes (10% of income), Offerings (voluntary giving over 10%), Alms giving (private donations to people in need) • There are many examples of local, national and international Christian charities, e.g. Tearfund, CAP, local churches. • People's actions can also contribute to society, Edith Cavell (1865-1915) was a Nurse born in Norfolk, she had a strong Christian faith and believed in helping people. THEOLOGY Islam How have events in history shaped Islamic diversity? Succession after Muhammad, conflict, Qur’anic interpretation. Sunni, Shia, Sufi.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> It is estimated there are 1.8 billion Muslims in the world today (largest religion after Christianity). Prophet Muhammad is often called “The Seal of the Prophets” his work completed Allah’s message to the people. During Muhammad’s lifetime, there was unity in Islam, “Hold fast to God’s rope all together; do not split into factions” (Qur’an 3:103) After Muhammad died, people disagreed over who should lead. This led to a split. The Sunni believed the most worthy should lead and chose Abu Bakr, Muhammad’s friend to lead them. Sunni Muslims regard Abu Bakr as the first Rightly Guided Caliph. The Shi’a believed that Ali, the cousin of Muhammad and his descendants should lead as he was from Muhammad’s family. Shi’a Muslims do not recognize the authority of the first three Caliphs and consider Ali the first Imam. In the 30 years after Muhammad’s death, Muslims were led by five Caliphs, Shia Muslims say that Ali pledged loyalty to the first three Caliphs to keep unity, even though he thought he was the rightful leader. Ali did eventually become the fourth Rightly Guided Caliph (or 1st Imam to the Shia). During the Rightly Guided Caliphate, there was huge migration, changes in government and many battles spreading Islam to Tunisia, Central Asia and Cyprus. There was unrest during the Caliphates, Uthman and Ali were killed by rebels. Eventually the Rightly guided Caliphate came to an end and the uneasy unity also ended. The Sunni and Shi’a split and followed different leaders. Islam continued to spread, 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Identify the influence of historical events on the development of Islam. When he doubted his abilities, she helped him to see what Allah wanted him to do. Muhammad showed great devotion to her even after her death. • Aisha survived after Muhammad's death and narrated Hadith and was an early scholar of Islam, Muhammad said Muslims could learn half the faith from her. • Hafsa helped in keeping safe and compiling the Qur'an. • Fatimah, Muhammad's daughter, is revered by Shi'a Muslims. • Khawlah bint al-Azwar was a female warrior in the early battles of Islam. • Diversity of expression may be shown in: Prayer, observance, worship, tradition and celebration.

THEOLOGY & PHILOSOPHY Buddhism How do Buddhists explain suffering in the world? Spiritual journey of Siddhartha Gautama, enlightenment, 4 Noble Truths, 8 fold path.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • About 2500 years ago in ancient India, Siddhartha Gautama was a privileged child, shielded from the horrors of the world. • When Siddhartha left the protection of his home he saw suffering for the first time, he saw a sick man, an old man, a dead man and a Holy man, who had nothing but was content. • He left his home to become a monk to try to understand why there was suffering in the world, began the spiritual journey of an ascetic. • After many years and mistakes trying to find the answer to suffering, Siddhartha finally meditated beneath the Bodhi Tree and reached enlightenment and became the Buddha, meaning enlightened one or knower. • The Buddha spent his life sharing his wisdom with others. • Many Buddhists do not understand God in the same way as Abrahamic faiths do. Some Buddhists consider there to be a concept of the divine, but others feel the idea of a creator God, for example is not relevant to humanity. Some people might say this means that Buddhism is not strictly a religion but a philosophy. • The Buddha developed teachings & philosophy for life that many Buddhists use today in different forms in their own search for understanding. • Four Noble Truths – the Buddha taught: suffering inevitably exists in life because life isn't perfect; suffering is caused by our desire for things to be as we want them; suffering can be ended if people detach from wanting things; ending suffering can be achieved by following the Eightfold Path. • Eightfold path (the middle way) – A philosophical approach to life with 8 guiding principles with the aim of ending suffering and reaching enlightenment. The Eightfold path has 3 elements (the Threefold Way) of ethics, meditation and wisdom. 	Theologians: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Describe the influence of historical events on Buddhist worldviews. • Describe theological similarities and differences within and between worldviews. • Describe how Buddhist beliefs might influence a person's life, how they view the world and other people. Philosophers: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Explain the Buddha's philosophical answers to questions about the world. • Explain the Buddhist answers to ethical questions and show awareness of diversity of opinion.

This influenced early Christians. • The early spreading of Christianity is demonstrated in Paul’s missionary journeys (Romans 15 22-29). • The conversion of Emperor Constantine (270-337 CE) to Christianity helped the spread through the Roman Empire. • Divisions began within the Christian Church leading to the Great Schism (tear) in 1053 CE, factors: • Theology – 325 CE, Emperor Constantine called a council at Nicaea to discuss the wording of the Nicene creed, including what it said about Trinity. Divisions about the importance of Jesus in the Trinity remained. • Geography – 400-600 CE, two centres of power, Rome in West and Constantinople (Istanbul) in East. Long way apart and isolated by conflict in the Balkans. • Language – Rome used Latin, Constantinople used Greek. • Power – Should the western Pope be in charge or the eastern Patriarch? • True faith – both sides thought they were expressing their beliefs right and the other was spreading lies. • The Great Schism in 1053, led to the Pope (Leo IX) leading the Catholic Church in the west and the Patriarch leading the Eastern Orthodox Church in the East. • Catholicism dominated most of Europe including Britain. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Recognise that conversations about religion and belief are complex in relation to Abrahamic understandings of Messiah. • Explain how belief has been expressed in similar and different artistic forms within Christianity. • Explain ways beliefs impact choices in individuals’ lives, community & society. • Describe how individuals, community & society can shape beliefs.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Due to widespread corruption in Catholic Church in Europe, by the 16th Century some people began to seek reform of the Catholic Church, this was collectively known at The Reformation. This lead to the rise of Protestant movements. • Martin Luther (1483-1546), was a German Theologian who influenced the Reformation. He disagreed with corruption and translated the Bible in to German. • England was officially Catholic until Henry VIII wanted a divorce, not allowed by the Pope. This lead to the creation of the Church of England in 1534 with the monarch as the Head. This is called Anglicanism. • There is huge diversity within Christianity in the UK today, these groups are called denominations and have arisen due to different views about power, expression of faith and theology. • Locally, we might see evidence of Christian diversity in our community.

PHILOSOPHY Is belief in God rational? Evidence suggested by religious worldviews, assessment of rational argument.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Philosophers show their thinking in steps to show what they know and how it leads to their new idea. Logic helps us to decide if we are convinced by an argument. • Philosophers examine & critique different philosophical approaches to the existence of God using rational argument. • Ontological Argument – An argument or proof about being or existence. Anselm of Canterbury (French Theologian) in Proslogion (c. 1077CE) , claims God is “that than which nothing greater can be conceived.” So God is perfect. What if God only exists in our minds? Anselm claimed existence in reality is greater than existence in imagination, and as God is, “that than which nothing greater can be conceived.”, then God must exist in reality not just in our minds. Gaunilo of Marmoutiers (1078CE) said this was flawed. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Explain different philosophical answers to questions about God’s existence. • Explain some philosophical approaches to the abstract concept of God’s existence. • Explain if an argument for God’s existence seems logical.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Cosmological argument – Moses Maimonides (c. 1190 CE), suggested all corporal things are finite and can only contain finite power, so must run out of energy and stop moving. Yet, as planets keep turning, something with infinite power must have caused them. That infinitely powerful something, is God.• Thomas Aquinas (1225-1274 CE), claimed everything has a cause and if we track things back there must have been a “first cause”, which he claimed was God as a “necessary being” needing no explanation or cause.• Intelligent Design Argument – First associated with Socrates (470-399 BCE), but argued and added to by many others over the years, suggests that the complex functionality of the world looks like it is designed, and what is designed must have a designer , i.e. God.• William Paley (1745-1805 CE), was a Christian philosopher who explained the design argument using the “Watchmaker Analogy”. A design implies a designer, intelligent design implies an intelligent designer, ie. A creator deity.• David Hume (1711-1776 CE) Disagreed with intelligent design, claiming that humans can only judge based on experience and observation to make inferences about events and cause. He claimed humans do not observe God or other universes, so we can’t infer their existence.• Most Humanists accept that they cannot prove God does not exist, yet many point to the existence of suffering and evil in the world as evidence that an omnipotent, omnibenevolent God is unlikely to exist.

THEOLOGY Christianity Why is the resurrection significant for Christians? Different gospel narratives, truth claims, salvation.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • It is a core Christian belief that Jesus was God incarnate, the prophesized Messiah. • The Gospels include different versions of the narrative of Jesus life, death and resurrection, some similarities and differences can be seen in the narratives of the resurrection: Matthew 28: -10; Mark 16: 1-8; Luke 24: 1-10; John 20: 1-18. • Most Christians would argue that the differences are not materially significant and are due to time, perspective and narrator (some were recorded a long time afterwards and are not necessarily claimed to be directly written by the narrator). However, the similarities in substance of Jesus’ resurrection are what is important to Christians. • If it were concluded that the narratives were unreliable, that Jesus’ resurrection was a fiction, the consequences for Christian belief are devastating. Paul claimed this in 1 Corinthians 15:14, “And if Christ has not been raised, our preaching is useless and so is your faith.” • Christianity is built upon the idea of Jesus as ultimate sacrifice, his resurrection brings salvation, brings sinners back to God after the Fall. • For a Christian, Christ’s death means forgiveness and everlasting life in God’s presence. • The significance of Christ’s death and resurrection to individuals. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Explain how the Gospels connect with Christian beliefs and discuss their reliability. • Explain the influence of belief in historical events on Christian worldviews. • Explain theological similarities and differences within Christian worldviews. • Explain how beliefs in Jesus’ resurrection might influence a Christians life, how they view the world and other people. PHILOSOPHY What do philosophers teach us about life's purpose? Self & Soul (link Yr5 Knowledge unit)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Some philosophers claim humans are the only animal who have an understanding that they will one day die and that this makes people question life's meaning. Philosophers cannot prove what happens after we die so seek explanations. Some philosophers see the mind and body as different types of things. Ibn Sina (980-1025 CE) (also known as Avicenna), was an Arabic philosopher, who argued our minds are separate from our bodies using the "Flying Man" thought experiment. Many philosophers have argued the body and soul or self are separate, others that the soul or self ends with the body. Socrates (470-399 BCE) Greek Philosopher, believed in the idea of a soul that lives in our bodies and goes to heaven when we die. Plato (428-348 BCE), Greek Philosopher, believed in the idea of an eternal soul, that would exist beyond the physical body. This meant that the world itself is not important, the soul will return to heaven. Plato's ideas influenced many Christians, who may accept that life on earth may not be great, but there is something better to come for the soul. Hypatia (370-415 CE) Female Greek Philosopher, Neoplatonist – meaning she believed that the soul would return to a divine being. An idea that appealed to her students, both Christian monotheists and pagans. Democritus (460-370 BCE), Greek Philosopher who suggested life is given meaning by the pursuit of pleasure, "joy and sorrow are the distinguishing mark of things beneficial and harmful." (Hedonism) Some hedonists have seen this as intellectual pleasure, others physical pleasure. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Begin to evaluate some philosophical approaches to abstract concepts such as meaning and existence. Begin to explain connections between beliefs and behaviour.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Friedrich Nietzsche (1844-1900), German philosopher, said people are never satisfied which prevents us finding meaning in life (Nihilism). • Simone de Beauvoir (1909-86), French Philosopher who challenged the idea of a divine plan. She argued humans born free, without a divine plan. That freedom is a blessing and a burden. Following human desire means we should not restrict others freedom to do so (Existentialism).

1 Where do we belong? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> We belong in different places such as family, school, class, clubs. Disciplinary: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Recognise that people look at the world in different ways. Recognise that people choose to belong to different groups. Some people choose to belong to a religion. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Belonging is feeling happy to be part of a group. Show pupils an image of your school, this is one place that we all belong. Show an image of your school logo (if you have this on uniforms get them to find it on their uniform). Uniforms, badges and logos are one way of showing group belonging. If your school logo has a special meaning, explain it to the class. Ask: Do any of you belong to these groups? Show logos or badges from different national groups e.g. Beavers, Rainbows, and add locally relevant groups like football, swimming and gymnastics clubs. Discuss: What do you do there? How do people show they belong to this group? How do you join? Do you think you'd like to join this group? Additional – We all belong to our class. How do we show we belong to our class? Additional – Design stickers/badges to show which class we belong to.

You will find it on and in lots of Churches, some Christians wear a cross on a necklace to show they are a Christian. I wonder if you've seen the symbol of the cross anywhere? Discuss places they have seen it. The Bible – The Bible is a very special book for Christians, it is full of stories that help us learn about God. Christening Gown – This is a special item of clothing that Danny wore for a special celebration when he was a baby. We will find out more about this in our next lesson. Prayer book – This is a book that helps Danny talk to God. God isn't a person who Danny can see or talk to on the phone, Danny and his family think about God as a something they can't see or touch, but they can feel that God is there in their lives and looks after them. Danny's prayer book helps Danny find the right words to talk to God, every night Danny chooses one of the prayers from the book to read before he goes to bed. Show the pictures of Danny's special things then take them off the screen. How many of the things can you write or draw on a whiteboard, or how many can we remember as a class?

Christian Baptism <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Christians welcome new members into the church by Baptising them in the name of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. What can we remember about him (He and his family are Christians; they belong to a Christian Church; symbol of the Cross; The Bible; Christening Gown; Prayer Book) This is Danny's Christening Gown, he wore it for a special celebration called a Baptism, when he was a Baby. Danny can't remember this, but his parents have told him all about it. Danny's mum wore the same Christening Gown for her Baptism when she was a baby too. It's a special thing for all their family. A Baptism (sometimes called a Christening) is a way for the people that belong to the Christian Church to welcome new members. People can join the church at any time in their life, but it's extra special when a new baby is born and their family want them to be welcomed in to their church community. There are lots of different Christian Churches in Great Britain, and there are lots of different ways of doing a Baptism. Danny would like to share a video about how one family get ready for a Baptism. NB. If you only have time for one, choose Baptism Ceremony. We can draw a star of David by drawing a triangle and then drawing another one upside down on top of it. Demonstrate. The Torah – The Torah is a very special scripture for Jewish people. Watch video clip The Torah is a hand written scroll, kept in the Synagogue. It is written in Hebrew, which is read written and read from right to left. Some people use a pointer called a yad to point to the words they are reading. The original words in the Torah are believed to be written thousands of years ago. Kippah – This is a special skull cap worn by many Jewish people, they can be decorated in lots of different ways. In some Jewish communities, only men wear them. It helps Jewish people to be aware of God as a higher power in their lives. Watch: What's on your head? Kippah. Tallit – Many Jewish adults wear a tallit over their shoulders for prayer during the day. Some Jewish people wear one under their clothes all the time. The tallit is usually white and blue with fringes that help Jewish people to remember to keep God's commandments. Show the pictures of Sarah's special things then take them off the screen. 5	Holy Books <ul style="list-style-type: none"> In both the Torah and the Bible is the story of Noah and the Flood. The main themes in the story are faith, perseverance and a promise. Disciplinary: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Recognise that people look at the world in different ways. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Review – What do we know about Danny? What do we know about Sarah? Today we are going to find out about a story that is special to both Danny and Sarah. Where might Danny find the story? The Bible. Where might Sarah find the story? The Torah. Introduce the story of Noah and the Flood – Read or Whoosh the story with the class. (Whoosh – whole class stands in a circle. As the teacher tells the story, go around the circle and give the next child the next part of the narration to act out in the middle of the circle. Every so often return everyone to the circle and add new children to play roles). Why do you think this story is important to Jewish and Christian people like Sarah and Danny? What can they learn about God from the story? Christian and Jewish people can learn that God is powerful, and that people should have faith (trust God), even if other people don't agree with them. That they should work hard and keep going even when things are hard and that God keeps his promises, that the whole world was never flooded again. The rainbow in the story is a way of showing God's promise.
6	Jesus is special to Christians <ul style="list-style-type: none"> The Bible also has stories about a man called Jesus, who is special to Christians. Disciplinary: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Recognise that people choose to belong to different groups. Some people choose to belong to a religion. Link that Jewish and Jewish people use symbols, artefacts and actions to show they belong. Recognise that people look at the world in different ways. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Review – what do we know about Danny? Last lesson we learnt about a story that was special to Danny and Sarah, what can we remember about the story? In this lesson we are going to find out about a person who is special to Danny, his name is Jesus. Where might Danny read stories about this special person? The Bible. The Bible is a really big book. The first part of the Bible has stories that are special to both Jewish people like Sarah, and Christians, like Danny. The second part of the Bible has stories about a man called Jesus who is special to Christians. Jewish people don't have these stories and don't believe that Jesus was special. This is a big difference between Christian and Jewish people. Share the story of the feeding of the 5000. How does the story show that Jesus was special? He was able to make 5 loaves of bread and 2 fish feed 5000 people. This seems like it is impossible. There is a special word that Christians use when God has the power to make something happen than seems like it is impossible, a miracle. Christians believe that Jesus was a man who lived about 2000 years ago in Judea, and that he was God born as a human to help people, that is why he had the power to make miracles happen. In our next unit, we will find out a special story about what Christians believe happened when Jesus was born.

4.2 Lesson Structure

To get the most value from the United R&W Curriculum, we adhere to the sequencing and teaching the 'what' but adapt the 'how' and the lesson delivery to meet the needs of our pupils. Teachers are also encouraged to add their own creativity to the planning to enhance pupils' engagement, for example using real-life artefacts, drama, thinking skills tasks, discussions.

Phase lesson design across the school (EYFS to Year 6):

1. Monthly review task (review prior knowledge from previous topics where there are links and current topic as well)
2. Weekly review task
3. I: Teacher Modelling & Explaining
4. We: Guided Practice
5. You: Independent Task
6. Discussion-based Plenary

As R.E. is knowledge-heavy and vocabulary rich, all lessons begin with a review of the previous lesson to enhance children's understanding and to help teachers to informally assess what the children have retained.

4.3 Example Knowledge Organiser

4.4 Assessment

At Avonwood, assessment is done through:

Formative assessment in lessons

During lessons, teachers continuously watch, question, listen to and review any recorded work to build up a picture of each individual's knowledge, vocabulary and skills, so any gaps in knowledge or skills, or misconceptions, can be identified and addressed.

Pupil Books and Pupil-Conferencing

At Avonwood, we value children's voice and so subject leads and class teachers take the time to discuss their books which aids as a formative assessment tool and tells us how much of the curriculum content is secure. These conversations are used most effectively to determine whether children have a good understanding of the vertical concepts, and if they can link recently taught content to learning from previous units.

5.0 Roles and Responsibilities

5.1 Class Teacher

It is the teachers' role to be aware of and follow the guidance contained within this policy. They should seek advice from the subject leader if they are unsure of knowledge content or how best to tackle a unit of work.

5.2 Subject Leader

The roles of the subject leader are to:

- Plan a progressive Long Term Plan using the National Curriculum as a base and using the School Curriculum Intents to tailor their subject provision to suit our pupils, which is chunked into units for each year group.
- Produce Medium Term Plans to frame the teaching and learning for each unit. - Promote their subject through signposting staff to up-to-date resources and subject specific evidence-based research.
- Support staff through planned CPD events and ad-hoc requests for assistance with knowledge or planning.
- Oversee the delivery of the subject through:
 - learning walks
 - book looks
 - pupil voice
 - subject audits
- Meet with their SLT link to update them with current developments in research and thinking.
- Create an annual action plan.
- Ensure there are sufficient resources for the subject to be taught effectively and efficiently.
- Ensure this policy is up to date.

5.3 Senior Leadership Team

Each subject will have an SLT link/ Their roles are to:

- Support the subject leader to:
 - Be an advocate for the subject
 - Oversee the delivery of their subject through assisting with learning walks, book looks and pupil voice
 - Enable their subject leader to have sufficient CPD opportunities to develop staff knowledge.
 - Implement their action plan. - Work together so that school priorities can be identified, and prevent all subjects from being promoted and developed at the same time
