

SUPPORT OVER THE SUMMER: A GUIDE FOR PARENTS & CARERS

Based on feedback from our Supporters Forum,
we've pulled together
key tips and resources to help you feel more confident and supported this summer.

♥ You're not alone.
Support is out there - for you and your child. Let's make this summer a little easier, together.

What parents told us

Many parents find the summer holidays rewarding but tough. Common challenges include:

 Financial strain – increased food costs, childcare fees, days out

 Work-life balance – juggling childcare and working hours

 Loss of structure – difficult to keep routines and engagement

 Mental health pressures – stress, burnout, isolation

 Return to school – anxiety and transition worries

Top tips for a calmer summer

 Create a Support Network
Link up with other parents, friends or neighbours to share the load.

 Prioritise Self-Care
Even 10 minutes for yourself can help you reset and recharge.

 Set Realistic Expectations
You don't need to plan a 'perfect summer'—focus on meaningful, simple moments.

 Establish Gentle Routines
A loose plan for the day helps maintain calm and motivation.

 Talk to Your Child
Ask them what they need and share how you're feeling too.

✓ Top tips from parents/carers

We asked parents and carers how they take care of themselves over the summer holidays. Their answers remind us that looking after your wellbeing doesn't have to mean doing anything big. It's often the small things - tiny moments of calm, a bit of time to yourself, or a quick catch-up with a friend - that can make the biggest difference.

"Going to the park
or the beach"

"Go outside to the woodlands, go to the beach so they can run around"

"Put on music when it all goes fraught"

"Listen to a podcast when they are gaming"

"Sit in the garden and have a cup of tea"

"Yoga, running,
cycling, walking"
